

The 2007 Appalachian Grazing Conference is an opportunity for livestock producers to learn strategies to increase profit! (This is for those working with cattle, sheep, goats and horses.) The agenda is filled with presentations on many important topics such as improving pastures, extended grazing and nutrient management.

Visit www.wvca.us to see the agenda.

With the reasonable registration fee and room rate, the Grazing Conference is an excellent value for the money.

Conference participants will gain more knowledge about:

- managing the forage system;
- using different methods to reduce the cost of livestock production; and
- improving the health of grazing
