PREFACE

Four hard copy editions of the FACDIS Faculty Directory have been printed. In 1990, we prepared and distributed the first Directory for our Tenth Anniversary. By 1990 we had grown from our original 1980 membership of 85 faculty members from 17 colleges and universities to 256 faculty teaching international studies and foreign languages at 20 institutions. Our membership currently stands at approximately 350 faculty members at our 20 institutions. We hope that this updated web-based version will continue to help foster our goal of intra- and inter-institutional communication and cooperation so central to FACDIS' mission.

The Directory includes current and background information on all FACDIS faculty, as well as a list of the Institutional Representatives, Study Abroad Advisers, and the Steering Committee. The Appendix provides further information on FACDIS members, with listings by institution and discipline.

Entries in the Directory were based on information provided by each FACDIS member. In the section called Teaching Fields, we requested that faculty only list areas/courses with significant international content. This information allows us to locate and inform members about various opportunities in their fields and to link the appropriate members with agencies seeking people in those fields. Please let us know if we have made any errors so we can update our records.
