

West Virginia University
Electronic Theses and Dissertations
Transforming graduate education & research

ETD Seminar

The West Virginia University Electronic Thesis and Dissertation (ETD) Task Force, in conjunction with the Provost's Graduate Student Professional Development Workshop series is pleased to announce a campus wide ETD Seminar:

Monday, October 5, 2009

3:00 - 4:30 PM

NRCCE Building (Evansdale Campus), Room 101A-B

Open to all WVU graduate students, faculty and staff.

Please register by sending an email to Elizabeth Hamilton at Eliabeth.Hamilton@mail.wvu.edu or call (304) 293-7173.

About the

WVU Electronic Thesis and Dissertation Graduate Seminar

WVU has successfully required the electronic submission of all theses and dissertations since 1998. This seminar will provide an overview of the WVU ETD program, highlight the submission requirements, and include a demonstration of electronic file conversion to Adobe Acrobat PDF and other formats, along with technical tips for success. The potential for inclusion of multimedia elements, development and promotion of graduate portfolios, and discussion of new authoring and research Web venues will also be explored. This will be of great interest to graduate level students, faculty and staff.

Presenters:

JOHN HAGEN is the ETD Program Coordinator and Institutional Repository Manager for the University Libraries at WVU. He has been the technical reviewer for all thesis and dissertation submissions, and has provided counsel on intellectual property and submissions issues since 1989.

KATHY FLETCHER is the Manager of Training Services for the Office of Information Technology Customer Support at WVU. She has been providing computer support and training for WVU faculty, staff, and students since 1985.

Please direct any comments or questions to John Hagen at John.Hagen@mail.wvu.edu.

WVU ETD Program: www.wvu.edu/~thesis