Guest speaker to present 'Focus on Access to Resources'

Simon J. Bevan, Information Systems Manager at Cranfield University in the UK, will visit the WVU Libraries at 2 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 14, to present a talk "Focus On Access to Resources" in the Wise Library's Robinson Reading Room.

Bevan is responsible for IT issues and budgets within the Cranfield University Library, as well as the management of staff and processes within the systems/technical services team. He chairs their e-policy committee – a group that looks at the strategies to be adopted for electronic resource access across the Library service.

Bevan has been involved with electronic theses for a number of years, specifically with UTOG (University Theses Online Group) and he took part in the group's pilot project on e-submission. He represents Cranfield University on the JISC/FAIR e-theses project and is chairing the e-theses Working Group at Cranfield. He also has overall responsibility for the development of the University Institutional Repository (named QuePrints@Cranfield). He is currently involved in a number of other externally funded projects looking specifically at different aspects of usage of electronic resources. CUL's Web site is <http://www.cranfield.ac.uk/cils/library/>.
